

Jennifer Killmer

Jennifer Killmer, the owner of Community Consignments in Thief River Falls, is in her first year of operation and has already created five new jobs for the community.

Jennifer has known since high school that she wanted to start her own business. After much encouragement from her husband, she finally made the leap. Jennifer has always been an avid bargain shopper, so owning a consignment store was a perfect fit for her. Jennifer loves watching people find a great deal in the store and hearing stories about items that bring back memories for them. "I give credit to the countless hours that SBDC professional business consultants have assisted me with, from business concept to creation and now operation." "I am truly grateful to have the pleasure to work with knowledgeable and caring SBDC consultants," said Jennifer.

"My experience working with the SBDC has been very positive. My professional business consultants have provided me with advice that has taken my business from creation to operation and success! I am so thankful that these services have been provided to me at no cost".
